IMPRISONED IN SANITARIUM

NO SPECIAL PRIVILEGES
FOR RICH; LAW STANDS;
SMART SET NOT FAVORED

No Liquor to Be Sold at Dansants Nor Any Drinks in Ballrooms; All Persons on Equality, Says Mayor

CLASS distinctions will be wiped out by the ordinance introduced by Mayor Mott today in connection with the sale of liquor at dances. The discretionary powers vested in the chief of police by the dance ordinance as it now stands, which makes it possible for the chief to exempt certain organizations and businesses from the operation of the city ordinance, will be taken away by the amendment introduced by Mayor Mott today.

The city council has decided that in view of the fact that it might be considered that the old ordinance, in giving this discretionary power to the chief of police, made distinctions between rich and poor, the law must be so drawn that there can be no possible line of demarkation, the lowest and the highest being considered the same before the law.

"The Piedmont capitalist has no more right to have champagne or liquors at his dances than the laboring man has to have a glass of steam beer at his," said Mayor Frank K. Mott today. "I have introduced this ordinance amendment by request, but I believe that its principle is right. The old ordinance made a difference between the rich and the poor; between a dance in the Hotel Oakland and one in Germania hall. But all should have the same privileges, and the same restrictions."

WELFARE LEAGUE ACTS.

The introduction of the amendment to the dance ordinance this morning followed the filing of communications urging such a course from the Public Welfare League and from the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Oakland. The communications asked for the amendment of the ordinance so that liquor might not be sold at any dances, whether held by capitalists or labor organizations.

There was no discussion of the matter before the city council this morning. The matter will come up for its second reading tomorrow, and a vote will not be taken until it is read for passage in public.

The ordinance now in existence contains the following clause: "Providing that notwithstanding the provisions of this ordinance the chief of police of the city of Oakland may, in his discretion, during the hours within which such liquors may be sold, permit the sale of wines, spirits, malt, alcoholic and other intoxicating liquors in any dance hall, ball room or other public place where any dance is being held within the city of Oakland."

This provision, when practically applied, was used to permit the sale of liquor at dances. The result was that the statement was made that special privileges were accorded by the governing body of the city of Oakland. To make it obvious that the laws of the city are for all the citizens alike, Mayor Mott introduced the ordinance this morning amending the dance ordinance by striking out the clause quoted above. This will prevent liquor being sold at any public dance in Oakland, no matter where it is held.

There was no formal expression of opinion by the commissioners today. Mayor Mott was strongly in favor of the amendment.

MAYOR TAKES STAND.

"There should be no discrimination among classes in Oakland," he said. "It is against the fundamental principles of our government."

The communications filed this morning were as follows:

"To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Oakland, Oakland, Cal.

"Gentlemen: On behalf of the members of the Public Welfare League I desire to present our vigorous protest against the recent action of the council in practically nullifying the dance hall ordinance.

"It is our earnest conviction that an effort to help the Hotel Oakland, in which we all have just been made, led you into a serious error of judgment. We respectfully request that you reconsider your former action and reinstate the original ordinance. Respectfully,

"Truly yours, "ARTHUR ARLETT, President."

WOMEN'S HOME MISSION.

"To the President of the Council.

"Dear Sir: The Women's Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Oakland, numbering 150 members, wish to enter their protest against your recent decision in the matter of serving alcoholic liquors during the dances at the Hotel Oakland, feeling that it is in violation of the spirit and the letter of the laws already in existence in regard to just this situation. Hoping that something definite may be done to do away with the existing condition of things in the ball room, I am, for the society,

"Truly yours, MRS. P. G. HARRISON, President."

Heed Not Siren Call of Easter Island Women

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Let nobody looking for a native wife and an easy life in the South Seas go to Easter Island. This is the advice of seven prosaic seafarers, the last of the castaway crew of the abandoned schooner El Dorado, who arrived here today with a plain tale that puts to the blush all the adventures of fancy printed since Captain Benson, master of the El Dorado, first brought word how he had left the better part of his crew on the island because the dangers of life there had weaned them from all desire for civilization.

With one voice the seven proclaimed that they were not married, either by native or any other rite, that nothing could have induced them to marry any Easter Islander they ever set eyes on, and that the only reason they did not leave earlier was that they had a prudent regard for their lives and believed they were sure to be picked up by a passing vessel if they stayed where they were, whereas if they had left they would have been sure to be drowned in a long voyage in an open boat. The women of Easter Island, they said, were ugly and dirty.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The relations of the United States with Great Britain in regard to the Panama tolls, the controversy between Washington and Tokyo over the California land ownership legislation, and President Wilson's policy toward Mexico, are the subjects of lengthy dispatches today from British newspaper correspondents in Washington, but there is a singular lack of editorial comment on these questions.

Slashed in Conflict by Intended Victim, He Swears Revenge

Prowling Around Home, Intruder Eludes Police

While a mysterious stranger prowls about the home in the darkness of night, evading detectives who seek hourly to capture him, a cordon of police are guarding the Richmond home of Charles Westerfeld, 2333 Main street, to protect him from the vengeance of a thug whom he wounded while the former was attempting to enter his house. Westerfeld slashed the burglar with a knife. The man vanished, leaving a trail of blood and swearing vengeance. The next night a nocturnal prowler was seen near the home and the police called in. Efforts so far to capture the man have failed.

Westerfeld, who is employed by the Western Steel and Pipe Company, is armed and on constant guard against the burglar's revenge. While detectives are watching the home during the darkness Westerfeld is keeping guard inside, armed for attack, fearing that the man may slip past the detectives and into his home.

Westerfeld was the burglar last week in a bloody hand to hand battle with knives, fought in the darkness, and is able to give but a meager description of his foe. "The man had attempted to force an entry into the rear of the house, according to the police, and was interrupted by the owner, who returned home in time to catch him in the act. The man rushed at Westerfeld, who with a knife succeeded in slashing him twice. The man fled into the darkness, cursing and threatening revenge. He disappeared in a side street before the police arrived on the scene."

Sergeant R. N. Ruiz is in charge of the detectives now watching the home. Several times they narrowly caught the intruder, who, however, always eluded them in the darkness. It is thought that he had planned to catch Westerfeld unawares, and that he may have a vehicle in the neighborhood in which he succeeds in eluding the officers.

Judge Speer Called a Good Lawyer, but—

SAVANNAH, Jan. 29.—When the Congressional inquiry into the conduct of United States Judge Emory Speer was resumed today, W. W. Osborne, a Savannah attorney, was the first to testify.

"Judge Speer is a good lawyer," he said, "but he is a czar as a judge. He is unfair and is possessed of a colossal conceit which makes him crave the spotlight. His court is one in which there is little justice. I regard him as a great egotist and devoid of personal courage. He has used his judgeship to satisfy his conceit by administering punishment to those who will not truckle to him."

"Judge Speer is, in my opinion, judicially corrupt. It makes no difference whether you win your case or lose it, you cannot come out of Judge Speer's court feeling that it is a place of justice."

JURORS

Gray Haired Woman Hears Findings With Tears in Eyes

Is Said to Have Tried to Blackmail Judge Widney

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Mrs. Mary Vaughn, a settlement worker, prominent in the activities of club women of this city, was found guilty of attempted grand larceny by a jury in Superior Judge Lawlor's court shortly before noon today. She was accused by Judge Widney of Los Angeles of an alleged attempt to blackmail him in connection with the arrest of his son Arthur for a statutory offense.

The closing arguments of counsel were made this morning and the jury retired at 11:35. In fifteen minutes they had agreed upon their verdict. Tomorrow was fixed for passing sentence and Attorney Nat Coghan declared that he would have some motions to interpose at that time.

The defendant was ordered into custody and must spend the night at the county jail.

SON IS ACCUSED.

Mrs. Vaughn is a venerable gray haired woman of pleasing personality and evident refinement. She took under her wing Mrs. Vivian Lyons, following the latter's suicide pact with Robert Widney, Jr., son of Judge Widney. Young Widney was sent to a sanitarium and Mrs. Vaughn took charge of Mrs. Lyons. Then it was that Arthur Widney, another son of the Los Angeles attorney and jurist, was accused of accepting money from Noel Murphy, a notorious woman. Just before the case Vaughn was to be called in Judge Shortall's court, Judge Widney declares Mrs. Vaughn visited him and promised to aid in having prosecution withdrawn in consideration of $500.

Judge Widney gave her a note and later reported the matter to the district attorney. Mrs. Vaughn was indicted and subsequently disappeared. Two months later she was arrested and for three days her trial has been

Nipped by Pet Dog;
Case Proves Rabies

Nipped several days ago by a pet dog with which she was playing, All daughter of Mrs. I. Wellman of the County Line district, was rushed to Pasteur treatment today following the death of the dog, which last night developed an acute case of rabies and died in agony. Dr. C. R. Blake, city health officer of Richmond, is administering the treatment under the method of the State Hygienic Laboratory in Berkeley, where he procured the serum. The animal's head was sent to the laboratory for investigation.

The child had been playing daily with the animal, a small terrier, and although she had noticed that the dog displayed marks of irritability, thought little of it. The dog snapped at her several times, she thought half in play, and once inflicted a slight wound. Three days later the animal developed the full symptoms. Dr. Blake declared that, so long as the treatment is being rendered within thirteen days of the attack, the child is in little danger, the treatment being purely preventive.

'BUNCO' COPS ARE RELEASED FROM JAIL

Super. McQuaile Says That They Were Model Prisoners

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—After serving a nine months' term in the county jail for conspiracy with the members of the bunco ring, former Policemen Charles Josephs, John H. Sullivan, John L. Droulette, William McGowan and James McGowan were released from the county jail shortly before noon. Unlike other prisoners incarcerated in the old Ingleside bastille, the officials are sorry to lose the five.

"They were better than any guards we ever had," said Superintendent McQuaile. "They prevented five escapes by tipping off the details to us. They will be sorely missed at the stables where they worked. They could put in a bale of hay faster than twenty men on the chain gang, who used to be assigned to the work."

In McQuaile's custody the five officers were brought from the jail to the hall of justice today. All save McGowan must stand trial for grand larceny in Judge Dunne's court. They are accused of the theft of $2,100 from John Minnet September 15, 1912. They furnished their bond today and their release before midnight tonight, when their term expires, and was given as a boon by Sheriff Eggers for their good work.

Superior Judge Cabanis signed their bond and they will appear in Judge Dunne's court on Monday, when the date for their trial will be set. McGowan was similarly charged with a felony, but Judge Cabanis dismissed his case six months ago.

Asks Murder Verdict
Against Hop-Pickers

MARYSVILLE, Jan. 29.—A verdict of murder in the first degree was asked by District Attorney Stanwood of the jury today in the trial of four hoppickers charged with killing former District Attorney Manwell at Wheatland. Stanwood opened the argument for the prosecution. He declared that the investigators in the riot that led up to the killings were equally as guilty as the principals.

Deputy District Attorney E. Ray sat in the courtroom as Stanwood asked that the slayers of his father be punished. There is a possibility of the case going to the jury late this afternoon.

FOURTH RUNAWAY

Miss Elizabeth Miller Weds Odin Steen at Stockton

The fever of elopement that seems to have taken hold of the younger set of this city added two more to the list Tuesday with the marriage at Stockton of Miss Elizabeth Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Miller of Fruitvale, and Odin C. Steen of San Francisco.

Although friends of the young couple had long suspected an engagement, no formal announcement was ever made, and the news of the wedding has come as a complete surprise. Not twenty-five members of their immediate families were taken into the secret.

With the announcement to her family that she was going to San Francisco for the day, Miss Miller left Oakland early Tuesday morning and with Steen took an early train for Stockton. The ceremony was performed at 1:30 p. m. in the rectory of St. John's Episcopal church, Rev. I. W. Renssion officiating. The couple then returned to Oakland, where the bride went to her home in twenty-five minutes. Yesterday morning the news was told. "Of course mother and dad were a little disappointed at first," the bride said.

Passengers Flee in Panic as Car Burns

Scores of passengers on a west-bound Hayward street car were thrown into a panic shortly after 9 o'clock this morning when the floor of the car caught fire. The flames were a hurried rush to the exits and a number of persons narrowly escaped injury in jumping from the burning car. Motorman E. Wilson, who was operating the car, brought it to a quick stop as soon as he was notified and all succeeded in getting out without injury. The blaze originated from a resistance coil, which ignited the woodwork of the flooring of the car. The car, in charge of Wilson and Conductor R. E. Brook, was proceeding at a fair clip on Twelfth street near Oak when the fire broke out.

Street car traffic along East Fourteenth street was held up for more than a half hour before the fire was extinguished and the car taken to the car barn for repairs.

Geo. W. Huston Says He Was Trained by Thugs

Alleges He Was Held in Oakland by "Dr. Clark"

DECLARING that he was confined for 100 days in "Dr. Clark's Sanitarium," near Oakland, tortured and robbed of valuable papers, forced to give up evidence against crooks into whose hands he had fallen, and finally escaping when almost at the point of death, George W. Huston, declaring himself a secret service agent, has started a hue and cry in Colorado which has set the Oakland police on one of the most peculiar cases ever seen in the bay cities. The man declared to officers of a lodge to which he belonged at Grand Junction, Colorado, that he had escaped from the clutches of his captors and was in need of aid. The Denver headquarters of the lodge took up the matter, sending reports to Oakland at once.

The man declares that he was training a gang of crooks, which, finding him on their tracks four months ago, captured him in Oakland and took him to a sanitarium in the outskirts of the city. Here he declares a man addressed as "Dr. Clark" was in charge. He declares that his captors, with the mysterious "doctor," inflicted frightful tortures on him until he gave up what evidence he had gathered. He states that he was robbed of papers and other evidence which he carried, and also his government credentials. The Denver lodge has started a strict investigation into the matter. Los Angeles Police Hear Alleged Details in Clark Case

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Hand-writing experts who today examined the anonymous letter received by Chief of Police Sebastian yesterday stating that Francis Lewis Clark, the Spokane millionaire who disappeared from Santa Barbara January 17 under mysterious circumstances, was held by blackmailers for $75,000, asserted that part of the letter was written by a woman and part by a man.

The main portion of the letter, which was dated Los Angeles, January 27, read:

"Chief of Police: We are holding a millionaire for ransom of $75,000. State in papers if his folks will pay it or not. He is well taken care of. Yours, "THE BLACKMAILERS."

That was the work of a woman, the experts declared. The note at the top of the letter reading: "Make a prompt reply in the papers, as he is very anxious to get out," was written by a man.

The postal authorities were asked today to assist in tracing the sender of the message. Mrs. Clark, who was in Paso Robles, would not say whether she believed her husband was actually in the hands of kidnappers. She was today anxiously awaiting a reply to her request for further information.

Personal friends of Clark residing here and at Santa Barbara are said to take the letter seriously and believe that kidnapping is the most plausible version of the mysterious disappearance of Clark's disappearance.

He believes that "Dr. Clark" may not be the true name of the man in charge.

Efforts of the agent to fail to locate any sanitarium operated under the name of Clark, although there are several sanitariums for the care of mentally unbalanced persons, such as the one described, near Oakland. These will be investigated.

The man claims to be in the executive department of the government, and on account of the secret nature of his work states that he is not known to police or public officials save when he presents his credentials. These, which were taken from him, he declares one of the crooks may now be using, masquerading thus as a government detective.

The federal authorities have been communicated with and will look into the matter. Whether or not the man was in the employ of the government is not yet officially stated.

DEAD MAN
MYSTERY

Policeman Hears Shot, Finds Dead Body on Bench

Victim of Bullet Had Evidently Seen Better Days

(By AP Wire)

Search in Jefferson Park and the body of a man lying across a bench with a bullet wound through his skull. The man was already dead and lying beside him was a 38-caliber revolver with which he had committed suicide. The body was removed to the morgue and it was found that no papers or other means of identification were found.

Reinhardt was standing at Seventh and Jefferson streets at 10:15 o'clock this morning, when he heard the shot. He ran into the park and after searching about the pathways finally found the body.

The dead man was about 50 years of age, and apparently a German by birth. He was somewhat poorly dressed, but his clothes indicated that he had probably not been a laborer and that he had formerly had a good position in life. The old man was about 5 feet 8 inches in height, had grey hair and grey mustache, wore a dark coat and vest, and grey and black trousers, a grey sweater vest, brown knit tie and soft black hat.

An inquest will be held at the morgue. Deputy Coroner Bert Sargent stated today that he believed the suicide had taken his life from despondency, probably from lack of work and because of financial troubles.

Verdict Rendered Against Well Known Clubwoman in S. F. Court.

In progress. She took the stand yesterday and denied the transaction, saying she had been endeavoring to get some money for Mrs. Lyons who had been over. Jones refused to go into details and other members present at the session also stated that they were pledged to secrecy, but as a result of the meeting several facts have come to light which may result in a general shakeup in the chamber's list of employees.

Jonas started the present dispute when, at a meeting of the manufacturers, he informed them that he would not tolerate the situation of last year, when they were in dispute with the chamber directors, and that they should work in harmony with the chamber or leave it. This speech resulted in several conferences, at which the grievances of the manufacturers were fully discussed.

Jonas' business would not be attacked by chamber officials, that employees of the chamber had in the past side-tracked their work, and that hindrance was offered their workers. This grievance was gone into at last night's meeting.

FUNERAL OF WILLIAM SUMMERS HELD HERE

Funeral services for the late William Henry Summers, who died in East Bay Sanitarium, was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Isabel Summers of 721 Twentieth street. The services were conducted under the auspices of the Santa Rosa Lodge of Elks. Exalted Ruler Clinton Dodes of Oakland Lodge, B. P. O. E., delivered the eulogy.

Summers was a native of this city and was 42 years of age. He had business interests in Santa Rosa, where he lived for many years. He held membership cards in the Masonic lodge, Native Sons, Elks, Red Men and Deacons of Pocomtong. He was also a member of the "Old Guard," the original Company A, National Guard.

The large floral tributes from the various fraternal orders, the Old Guard and others, told of the esteem in which he was held by his colleagues and associates.

Seven brothers and sisters survive him. They are Charles F. Summers of THE TRIBUNE; Irving Sumner, Miss Isabel Summers; Joseph, Andrew J. and Franklin P. Summers and Mrs. W. H. Stanley of Stockton and Mrs. T. J. Ockend of Fresno.

The interment was in St. Mary's cemetery.

ALASKA RAILROAD IS URGED BY KNOWLAND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Representative Joseph R. Knowland in a speech before the House yesterday ardently advocated the passage of the Alaska railroad bill.

"The people of California and other Pacific coast states," he said, "welcome legislation that will make available the vast resources of Alaska."

"We have for years waited patiently for the announcement of a governmental policy that would result in unlocking that great storehouse for the benefit of all the people of the country. It is not surprising that we have grown impatient at the exasperating delay."

Restiveness has increased as we have witnessed, year after year, the spectacle of foreign ships bringing to our coast coal which had to be transported round Cape Horn, while the coal of Alaska at our very doors remained untouched."

PRETTY DEFENDANT GIVES WAY TO TEARS

Miss Leah Alexander Listens to Prosecution's Final Words

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—With her slender form rocking back and forth in an agony of suspense and occasionally giving vent to the tears which she could not hold back, Leah Alexander, slayer of J. D. Van Baalen, listened anxiously to the winding up of the prosecution's case this morning. Nervous herself for the ordeal of facing the court, the girl repeatedly questioned her attorney, Thomas O'Connor, receiving from him words of encouragement and hope.

Assistant District Attorney Berry rested his side of the proceedings this afternoon after the testimony of a number of police officers and other minor witnesses had been taken. The spectators were treated to only a moment of the drama.

The young woman took the stand at 10:15 when the case opened. She was called to be examined as to her acquaintance with Van Baalen, but declared that he had never called upon her, and as she was inclined to be reticent in her answers.

The efforts of Attorney O'Connor to bring about her effort in behalf of the police department while she was being held as a witness were halted by the court. It was Miss Alexander's turn to speak.

James Hillman, superintendent of the Chronicle building, George Bidder, Emil Duff, Patrolmen Levy, and Detectives Collier and Callender followed on the witness stand in quick succession each telling of his part in the investigation of the tragedy. Officer Levy was on the stand for a long period.

He was the first official to reach the second floor of the Chronicle building where he found Miss Alexander and Van Baalen in the postures into which they had settled themselves following the firing of the death dealing bullet.

Leah Alexander, shaking with emotion, took the stand shortly before the noon adjournment. Her emotion was so great that she almost fell from the witness chair. The questions covering the first ten minutes as to age, name and occupation were answered by a shake of the head. Finally, when she told of meeting Van Baalen, declining a position in his office of subsequently seeing him again and of his attentions toward her, she described the kidnapping with him at the St. Francis Hotel, her receiving of an engagement ring and a wedding ring in anticipation of marriage, and of accompanying him to New York as his wife. Under the persistent questioning of her own counsel she finally admitted her relations with the deceased and told the details of their life together.

If Mrs. J. D. Van Baalen, the widow of the victim, can be found the prosecution will call her before the close of the case.

RESCUES CHINESE LAD, BUT MAY DIE

Imperilled Boy Is Given Aid by Three Heroes in Runaway

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Because there were too many heroes today to save little Lee Yon, a 12-year-old Chinese lad of 1137 Stockton street, who was in imminent danger of death this morning, James Wall, manager of Carey Brothers Draying Company, 744 Washington street, may lose his life.

Wall is in a serious condition at the Harbor hospital and beside his name on the roll, brave men should be those of Patrolmen P. W. Handley and James Neely.

Lee was sitting on a wagon belonging to Joseph Watson of 1209 Stockton street, which was unloading at Washington street near Powell. The horses became frightened and the lad was pitched from the seat to the trolley of the vehicle and between the danger, jumped on the dash board and made an unsuccessful effort to stop the runaway. The lines had fallen and he was powerless. As the onrushing horses passed Grant avenue Patrolman Handley grabbed one of the animals with one hand while he tried to reach for the boy with the other. Wall likewise attempted to stop the runaway and came in contact with the officer. He was hurled to one side, striking his head on a cobblestone and lay dazed on the pavement. His attempt to pursue the runaway was frustrated by the fact that the frightened horses tore on at Kearny street. Patrolman Neely grabbed the lines just as the horses and wagon collided with an automobile. Little Lee, who had been holding on for dear life, was pulled out by Neely just in time to save him from being jammed against the machine.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ACTIVITIES TOLD

President Harmon Bell of the Commercial Club last night presented his report for the past year, according to the minutes of the club meeting held at the club house, 1015 Broadway.

"The limits of this report will permit of only a brief mention of the many activities of the club. Among the interesting achievements are the following:

"Securing the passage of House Bill No. 478 in the State Legislature, providing for a tax levied of not to exceed 2 cents in each county for public utility and exploitation work. Followed by the securing of a vote of 1-5 of 10 per cent for advertising purposes in Alameda county.

"Securing the appointment of the Alameda County Publicity Commission for the administration of this fund.

"The giving of the 'Hands-Around-the-Harbor' Banquet on the evening of April 7.

"The formation of the 'Hands-Around-the-Harbor' Committee, with the President of the Commercial Club as its chairman.

"An active part in the formation and work of the Tourist Association of San Francisco Bay and River Counties.

"A campaign to raise funds for the relief of the Ohio and Indiana flood sufferers.

"Great boost trip to the Rose Festival at Portland, Oregon, backed by the efforts of the 'Rural Oaks'.

"The entertainment of many distinguished visitors, among them: Ronald Amundson, discoverer of the South Pole.

"Can Felix Diaz, Mexico.

"President Benjamin F. Book of the Missouri Pacific, Western Pacific and Denver and Rio Grande Railroads.

"Hon. Francis McGovern, Governor of Wisconsin.

"Hon. Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy.

"The inauguration and conduct of a convention campaign, which resulted in the securing for Oakland of the World's Congress of Education and the International Congress of Municipalities for 1915, the meeting of the National Education Association Convention and 15 smaller conventions.

"The inauguration of the City Planning Movement, begun with the election of Dr. Werner Hegemann to make a report upon the development of the city of Oakland, and including the bringing of the American City Planning Exhibit from New York City direct to Oakland early next March.

"The appointment of an energetic and successful Harbor Development Committee through the activities of which the development of the inner harbor and the preliminary development work on the Key Route Basin has gone forward with much rapidity.

"A thorough consideration of the various plans suggested for the development of the waterfront resulted in the bringing together of representatives of all the interested parties in a meeting with the Harbor Development Committee, and the unanimous adoption of the plans of Colonel Thomas H. Rees, United States Engineer Corps, thus removing the last obstacle to the securing of Government aid for the development of the western waterfront.

"The club took an active part in the formation of a California Association of Commercial Secretaries, which was organized at a two-day session held at the Commercial Club and attended by the representatives of commercial bodies from all parts of the State, resulting in the choosing of your secretary as president of the State Association.

"The Commercial Club has many other important matters in the hands of committees that are working vigorously to bring about desirable results in many lines of activities. Following the plan, however, of referring only to actual accomplishments and avoiding reference to future activities, these matters will be reported upon only after their successful disposition.

"HARMON BELL, President.

A HAPPY BALD HEADED MAN

Well-Known Politician Nearly Bald
Now Has Heavy Growth of Hair.

Tells How He Did It

A western politician, well known on account of his business and political success, has been suffering from the loss of his hair for many years. He did not know how and others thought he had a wig. On being asked how he did it, he made the following statement: "I attribute the remarkable growth of my hair to the use of the following simple recipe which any lady or gentleman can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the scalp two or three times a week with the finger tips. It not only promotes the growth of the hair, but removes dandruff, scalp humors and prevents the hair from falling out. It darkens streaked, faded gray hair and makes the hair soft and close. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home."

GRADUATE OF MILLS.

Mrs. Steen is a Mills college girl, having graduated with the class of 1909. She made her debut the following year and has since been active in the affairs of the younger set on this side of the bay. The elopement of Steen and Miss Miller is the fourth affair of the kind that has taken place here in the past week. Last Thursday Arthur C. ## WELFARE LEAGUE PLACES ISSUE BEFORE WORKERS

Union Labor Hears Saloon Question Squarely
Presented by D. M. Gandier

Placing the matter squarely before the workers of the city, the union men themselves, the rank and file of the wage earners, D. M. Gandier, representing the Welfare League in its fight for the Council's ordinance reducing by 250 the number of saloons, appeared last night at the first union meeting he has ever attended in Oakland. Devising that the issue should be dealt with by the workers themselves, rather than with making delegates and officers, he asked permission to address the Carpenters' Union, in session last night. Business was suspended while he told the League's side of the controversy. Considerable interest was taken in his address, and the time allowed him extended that he would further outline his case. At the close of his address he answered questions.

"I feel," he declared, "that union labor is not represented in the so-called saloon question. That is why I want to put the case squarely before the workers themselves: you who support the officials who form labor councils, and who are in direct control. It is you men who will cast the vote on February 17 and, regardless of what is told you, I want you to hear our side. You have heard the other."

OUTLINES ORDINANCE.

Gandier then briefly outlined both ordinances, the council's, cutting down and the workers' initiative, which provides for the removal of the city to more progressive saloons. He pointed out that the council's ordinance would remove saloons inoperable, and other features to which the league forces object.

"The city council has earnestly tried to regulate the saloon evil, and should be supported," said Gandier. "Other wise we center ask them to stand up for the people again. That's the only solution that I see to this question."

PARENTS CONSIDER ISSUE.

The saloon question is being taken up today in the big parents' meeting being held at the Shattuck Avenue M. E. Church, Mrs. R. C. Young, head of the saloon end of the session. Tomorrow night A. H. El-dersen, who is head of the saloon end of the session, will also be heard on the saloon question.

Scotland Yard Sends Out
Warning to Tourists, Ex-

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Because an increasing number of American tourists are being victimized out of thousands of dollars by a "confidence game" in London, the criminal investigation department of New Scotland Yard has issued a warning exposing the scheme. The game is worked by two confederates one of whom explains that his uncle by the terms of an ecclesiastical will gives him a fortune conditional upon his distribution of $2000 among the poor of the American city's native state. But in order to establish confidence, the American is requested to draw $100 from his bank, which is given to one of the confederates, who disappears. Later the other goes to hunt for his companion, and the victim never sees them again, unless, after lodging a complaint, he is called to identify them at the police station. Then the American must decide whether or not he will start to prosecute and thus lose his passage money or stand his loss.

Faded, Streaked or Gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and straggly, just an application of two or three Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't bother to prepare the tonic. You can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears young, healthy and abundant.

Illington's Charms Have Not Lost Their Favor

ADVANCE DEMAND FOR SEATS GREAT

Local Appreciation of Actress as Intense as That of Chicago.

With an unusually large advance demand for seats presaging exceptional interest in her engagement, Margaret Illington, who has just ended in Chicago a phenomenally popular run of three months during which the playing of a matinee every day was necessary to accommodate the record-breaking attendance, comes to the Macdonough theater, Oakland, beginning Saturday.

Her engagement at the Macdonough theater, Saturday, in "Within the Law," Bayreuth Veller's widely heralded absorbing play of tremendous human interest. This drama which has proved the theatrical sensation of the year in New York, London and Australia, is credited with having caused a more profound impression than any stage offering in a decade or more. Its world-wide vogue is due to its truth and timeliness, its humanity and humor.

Miss Illington, whose interpretation of the exacting role of Mary Turner is said by the critics to mark the most brilliant achievement of her noteworthy career, is surrounded by an exceptionally excellent supporting company which includes Howard Gould, Neil Moran, Frank E. Camp, Robert Elliott, Hilda Keenan, Sozia Jasper and others.

HAIJ, THE BEGGAR.

Otis Skinner as Haij, the beggar, will be seen at the Macdonough just four more times, three evening and once at Saturday matinee. A more popular production has never been given in Oakland. The scenic effects are wonderful, the cast large and Skinner's acting beyond description. He carries his audience with him from the throes of tragedy to the rollicking humor of an epilogue.

The romance of the rogue is something no other actor can convey with such dash and poetry as Otis Skinner. His sly vein of humor, his impudence and the one touch of sentiment are delivered in a rollicking manner that makes Haij the most engaging rascal in the world.

"ADELE" IS COMING.

The engagement of the French opera "Adele," which comes to the Macdonough theater February 9, 10 and 11, promises to be one of the most important theatrical events of the current season. "Adele" for the past six months has been the reigning musical sensation of the New

MARGARET ILLINGTON.

York season, where it has tested the capacity of the Longacre theater. The book and lyrics are by Paul Harve, while the music, of which quite a bit has already been heard in these parts, is by Jean Biquet, who was responsible for the big success of three seasons ago, "Alma." Adolph Phillips and Edward Toulson made the English version of "Adele," which is conceded by all critics as a musical triumph; in fact many have said it to be the best musical offering produced in ten years. The cast, which is said to rival the famous Bostonians, has been winning laurels in every city thus far visited en route to the Pacific coast.

"THE FIREFLY."
Miss Emma Tremblay, her voice even more beautiful than when she was identified with Mr. Oscar Hammerstein's Grand Opera company, and her stage presence still typified by a wonderful and tireless energy, will make her appearance in the new Hammerstein-Frill comedy opera, "The Firefly," at the Macdonough theater, February 21, 22 and 23 for three nights and a matinee, under direction of Arthur Hammerstein.

"The Firefly" has been written to fit Miss Tremblay's voice—a fact that gives her many opportunities to display her vocal ability. This has been amply evidenced, however, without the effect of having placed the importance of other roles in order to give her a starring vehicle.

ORPHEUM

Nance O'Neil, appearing in one of the most popular tabloid dramas ever presented at the Orpheum, is drawing crowds this week with "The Second Ash Tray." The playlet is a lurid bit, in a strange setting. The scene is India, and the principal characters a naturalist who drinks his wife, and an artist. The artist loves the wife, and visits her during the husband's absence. The latter returns, the artist hides. Angry naturalist suspects his presence and turns a snake loose. The artist escapes the snake. The naturalist dies. Miss O'Neil's acting is the real attraction.

Bert Fitzgerald brings all kinds of fun with him this week, appearing in an eccentric monologue which has a laugh concealed behind about every ten words. Fred Linkey, the Australian stock whip expert, flicks ashes from cigars, puts out matches, and performs other wonders with a long lash.

Albert Von Tilzer with Dorothy Norl, presents a melange of song and humor, and Martin Johnson, with remarkable pictures, takes the audience through the south seas as he travels with Jack London.

Another artist that is delighting music lovers this week is Musette, a young Oakland girl, as dainty a dancer as violinist as ever graced the Pantheons stage. Musette has a violin duet with two violins in the orchestra that is original and decidedly effective.

Other acts on this week's bill that are pleasing patrons are the Acrobatic Lafayette in a double trapeze act; Hans Arnold in story, songs and costume changes in view of the audience; LaFrance and McNab, a screamingly funny blackface duo in a skit entitled "The Argument," the Aloha Service with their super voices in a program of rattle and grand opera numbers, and the Flight Berlin Madcaps, an aggregation of foreign acrobatic dancers.

For the coming week the headlines will be the bareback riding of the Riding Castillos, and Walter Terry and his Five Girls in a tabloid musical act entitled, "Cannibal Isle."

"Winsome Wimple." is Milton & King's unique musical offering that is entertaining large audiences at the Columbia this week. For their third week at the Tenth street playhouse, the popular comedians have selected a comedy that is totally different from any they have hitherto presented. The plot is cleverly conceived while the situations and entertainment are of a high order.

A had headache, a charming actress, $2000 and a legal document in the shape of a will are the real causes for the many complications in which Mike Dooley and Ike Lechinski are involved. The present offering affords the comedians excellent opportunities for genuine fun-making. The several times that Mike and Ike get together furnish the real comedy situations of the piece. The merry-making is not confined, however, to the Irishman and Hebrew alone. Ivan Miller comes in for his share of the fun on more than one

OAKLAND PHOTO

Continuing its policy of showing only famous productions and famous stars, the Turner & Dohrmann circuit presents in its Oakland Photo theater, commencing Saturday, the remarkable war drama entitled "The Battle of Shiloh." This subject is unusual and out of the ordinary, not only because of the immense battle scenes filmed but also because of the many other startling incidents contained therein. A woman fleeing on horseback from the pursuing Confederates, in order to escape her pursuers, leaps her mount from a towering cliff to a swiftly flowing river below; Union soldiers escaping on a railroad train engages in a combat with a Confederate on the top of the moving freight car and hurls his antagonist to the ground and just before the train hits a car dynamite which explodes and blows the train into atoms, he dives from the top of the freight car to a pool of water.

These and many other incidents unusual and rare indeed to film production, keep the audience in a state of the keenest interest throughout the entire production. The story is faithfully depicted upon the scenes of the great battle between the Blue and the Gray, and the two historical characters, General Grant and General Johnston, are frequently brought into the battle. An excellent program of martial music has been prepared by the Oakland orchestra and rendered delightfully for the scenes of the great battle.

BROADWAY

The mystery of "Big Jim—What Is He?" the headline act of the four-days Sullivan and Constance show at the Broadway theater, was solved at the opening of the bill yesterday afternoon. Big Jim is an immense black bear, of great intelligence and does the tango, the hesitation waltz and other popular steps with grace and ease. He also wrestles with his trainer, finally throwing him. The act created a sensation in New York when first shown.

Every conceivable instrument from which music can be extracted is used by Williams and Warner in their musical act. Life and limb are risked many times by the members of the Kaitchi troupe of Japanese in their daring acrobatic and contortionist act. Herbert Clifton, "type delineator," proves his right to the title of the "English Julian Eltinge" by the ease and grace with which he wears the latest Paris creations. Late songs and dances are offered by the Kaitchi troupe, and the entire program is a riot of new pictures round out one of the best bills given at the cozy Broadway house in some time.

How to Make Better Cough Syrup than You Can Buy
A Family Supply, Saving $3 and Fully Guaranteed.

A full pint of cough syrup—as much as you could buy for $2.50—can easily be made at home. You will find nothing that takes hold of the ordinary cough more quickly, usually conquering it inside of 24 hours. Excellent, too, for spasmodic croup, whooping cough, bronchial asthma and bronchitis.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, then add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three times a day.

This is just laxative enough to help relieve a cough. Also stimulates the appetite, which is usually upset by a cough. The taste is pleasant.

The effect of pine and sugar syrup on the inflamed membranes is well known. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gualic acid and other natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination. This Pinex and Sugar Syrup remedy has often been imitated, but the old

The Enquirer Degrades Journalism.

On November 13, 1913, the Enquirer printed an editorial warmly endorsing the liquor ordinance now in force, but which had then just been passed to print. It said: "We have heartily endorsed the measure in letter and spirit. We hope that it will speedily result in the reduction of Oakland's saloons to the number of 200, and that the remainder will as speedily follow the others to abolition."

Yesterday the Enquirer had this to say in a leading editorial: "Neither the so-called Hart (the saloonkeepers') ordinance, the initiative ordinance of the Central Labor Council, nor the City Council ordinance meets the approval of this paper in this important matter, since neither of them provides for that immediate and perpetual abolition of saloons in residence districts, which should be enforced. The Labor Council (the saloonkeepers') ordinance is, perhaps, least objectionable, as it proposes to place the

the public."

The only thing that has occurred since November 13 to change the situation was the decision of the Royal Arch, the saloonkeepers' organization, to raise a huge slush fund to be expended in initiating an ordinance prepared by attorneys for the liquor men. That is the ordinance the Enquirer alternately speaks of as the "Hart ordinance and the Labor Council ordinance."

Why did the Enquirer reverse itself the moment the liquor men raised a sack to make a fight against the ordinance which the Enquirer had so heartily approved a few weeks before? The Council's ordinance has not changed, but the Enquirer has. Again why?

But the most pathetic feature of the Enquirer's abject surrender to the saloon is the degradation it has brought upon journalism. The degrading influence of the corrupt bargain it has entered into is shown by the low, obscene epithets it employs and the silly excuses it makes for its conduct. What it has to say on the liquor question reads as if it came from the fuddle of drink and the vocabulary it uses echoes of the lowest class of grogshops. It has injured itself in striving to do an injury to society.

It is a pity that journalism should be brought to such a sorry pass. It is to be regretted that a newspaper which has so persistently vaunted its virtue should be found in alliance with the very worst element of the class engaged in the liquor traffic, and endeavoring to substitute a wide-open ordinance prepared by saloonmen for the wholesome and reasonable ordinance now in force. The Enquirer would have served its turn far more effectively by remaining on the side of decency and morality instead of deserting the moment the saloonkeepers raised a sack. THE TRIBUNE would have been pleased to work with the Enquirer in the task of bettering the morals of the community and abating the more vicious resorts that have been polluting the social life of this city, but our contemporary will not have it so. The Enquirer's fall gives THE TRIBUNE no pleasure. It is evidence of the rotting influence exerted by the liquor traffic.

The wretched twaddle about "placing the whole management of the retail liquor business in the hands of the public" is a patent attempt to palliate the iniquity of the proposal to release the liquor traffic entirely from control. What's everybody's business is nobody's business. The public could not manage or control the liquor business under the saloonkeepers' ordinance because the ordinance provides no machinery for control. It ties the hands of the Council and the police and turns the saloons loose. It gives nobody authority to correct the disorders which inevitably accompany the sale of liquor to be drunk on the premises. In short, the public management advocated by the Enquirer is a humbug and a fraud. It is precisely the sort of management the keepers of dives and deadfalls hunger for. It is legislation for immorality and disorder as opposed to morality and order. It came from the Royal Arch sack. Perhaps the Enquirer found it there. We are sincerely grieved to see the Enquirer sacrifice its good name in a service that smells to heaven and creates a moral stench on earth.

A Complaint From Contra Costa.

Here is a complaint from the Byron Times that should receive attention:

"There is a stretch of roadway one mile in length separating Contra Costa and San Joaquin and belonging to Alameda county that has not been graded in twelve years! It is a disgrace and an instance of the most shameful neglect. No travel can come Byron way. No travel can go either toward Tracy or Livermore."

THE TRIBUNE believes in good roads and favors fixing the particular piece of highway with which our Contra Costa neighbors find so much fault. Still the Byron Times should remember that this bit of roadway is primarily a link in the line of communication between points in other counties. It is in Alameda county, but it is not used to any extent by the citizens of Alameda county, and the taxpayers of Alameda county must pay for its improvement. Asking one county to improve a roadway to convenience residents of another county is not an excessively modest request, especially when the people who foot the bill have small occasion to use the road and will derive hardly any indirect benefit from its construction.

However, we recognize the situation as exceptional and that counties owe a general duty to the public which should not be shirked. The Contra Costa people need an improved roadway on that mile stretch of highway, but they have no jurisdiction over it, because it lies in Alameda county. They cannot go outside of their own county to build roads, even to convenience themselves. The people of Alameda county have no particular use for the road, and as they have use for roads in other sections of the county it is not strange that their representatives on the Board of Supervisors should be reluctant to spend money on a road that will not benefit their constituents.

That is the truth of the matter. We would like to see the road fixed, but we would remind the Byron Times that it can only ask Alameda county to fix it as a neighborly favor to the residents of Contra Costa county. A favor cannot be demanded as a right. Distorting failure to fix the road into a grievance will merely provoke ill temper and retard the very thing the Byron Times wants done. Supervisor Murphy is a fair man, and if he is approached in the right spirit will do the fair thing. He owes his first duty to his constituents who will be called on to pay the bill. From this standpoint THE TRIBUNE

A SUGGESTION FOR T. R.

Maybe He'll Bag a Tango.

—COLUMBUS DISPATCH.

The President Yields to British Dictation.

A well authenticated rumor comes from Washington that President Wilson will soon attack the free toll provision of the Panama canal law in a message to Congress. It is to be hoped that Congress will not be so phant to his will in this matter as it has been in other matters.

Foreign objections should not deter the American nation from arranging its domestic affairs to suit the people of this country. The free toll provision applies only to American ships engaged in trade between American ports—a trade in which no foreign ship can engage. It is purely an American matter. Great Britain objects on the ground that exemption is a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, which provides that "the canal shall be open to ships of all nations on equal terms." But there can be no equality of terms in a trade which the ships of only one nation can engage in.

Behind the English contention is the transcontinental roads of the United States and Canada, including the Tehantepec railroad, controlled by the Pearson syndicate. Foreign pressure is being exerted in the interests of railway exaction. It is an attempt to interfere with our domestic concerns by misapplying the terms of a treaty engagement.

If President Wilson yields to British pressure in this matter he will grievously disappoint true American sentiment. He will surrender something of the dignity and sovereignty of the great republic of which he is for the time being the official head. He will concede that the power to control the Panama canal is partly vested in the government of Great Britain, which did not contribute a dollar to the cost of constructing the canal nor aid the canal project in any way. He will make a grave mistake and run counter to the wishes of the American people. He will please only foreigners and railroad magnates.

The Panama canal was built with American money. The territory it traverses virtually belongs to the United States. President Roosevelt took it because Colombia, to which the Isthmus formerly belonged, was trying to hold the United States up for an enormous sum. England never had any claim to Panama. She simply butted in with the contention that she was to be consulted if an interoceanic canal was to be built. Her claim is based upon mere assumption and presumption. She is now standing upon a distorted construction of a passage in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, seeking by a pettifoggery trick to get the United States to acknowledge that England shall have a voice in the control of the canal.

President Wilson will wrong his country if he submits to British dictation in the matter of canal tolls or anything else. It will be better to do without Great Britain's friendship than to buy it with concessions derogatory to our national dignity and humiliating to our national pride.

After all, it is the paper that prints the news and has the circulation that stands out in bold relief in the opinion of the advertiser and the general public—not what a paper thinks of itself.

The Enquirer expresses the hope that saloons will be banished from the residence districts no matter which side wins at the coming election. Yet it advocates the adoption of an ordinance which gives every owner of a saloon in a residence district the right to a renewal of his license upon a tender of the license fee to the Tax Collector. The present ordinance forbids the licensing of any saloon in a residence district. While professing a desire to banish saloons from residence districts, the Enquirer desires to repeal the ordinance which banishes them and advocates the adoption of an ordinance framed by saloonkeepers that gives keepers of saloons in residence and all other districts a legal right to have their licenses renewed. In one breath the Enquirer says it wants all saloons abolished, and in the next objects to reducing the number of saloons to two hundred on the ground that a few bartenders will be thrown out of employment.

Twenty Years Ago Today

For some time past rumors to the effect that "the soul three" of Berkeley's trustees were dissatisfied with the stand taken by Town Attorney Robinson in several recent matters have been rife among the college town politicians. A couple of days ago one of the said three positively stated that Robinson's position would be declared vacant at the next meeting. Attorney Robinson declares he has received no official notice but that on account of ill health it was well known to the trustees that he intended to resign. The non-partisan members of the City Council held an important caucus last evening. The question that was discussed was the proposed ownership of the water works. The following members were present: Messrs. Dalton, Dow, Manna, Shell, Barnard, Towle and Barstow. It is understood that City Attorney Johnson was present and was asked a number of questions concerning points of his opinion. The members absolutely declined to state what action it was decided upon to take, if any.

In about a week Manager Fleming of the Sunset Telephone and Telegraph Company will introduce into the telephone system of this city and vicinity what is known as the Limited Express Telephone Service. This will do away with the system of ringing the bell twice in order to call central office. This service is the invention of President Sablin of the Sunset Company.

The steamers of the Davis Transportation Company still lie with their noses pointed toward the shore of the estuary near the foot of Harrison street. J. L. Davis is still in trouble with the city over his wharf license at the foot of Harrison street, and on a twenty-foot banner which he has extended on the side of a building near the wharf. He sets forth that the mayor and council demand a wharf license of $100 from him and permit the railroad company to fence up Harrison street, the only street to and from his wharf and that he is now compelled to pay $50 per month to reach his wharf.

Jane Adams of Chicago will arrive in Oakland on the 5th of next month. Professor Ritter of the University has been given a year's leave of absence to pursue a course in biology in Germany.

PLAY-READING HABIT

There is no subject of the day more thoroughly discussed by the public and more sincerely believed in by writers themselves than the possibility in the future of the American theater. Before it comes, however, we shall have to get the plays themselves over the bars into your library and mine. We shall have to acquire taste as to the art of the drama. We shall have to know what a good play is and how to appreciate one after we get it. We shall have to try out whatever looks to us like a piece of divine possibility, as Maurice Browne did at the Little Theatre in Chicago, and Winthrop Ames is doing at the Little Theatre in New York. We shall have to find a few more professors of the drama like Professor Baker of Harvard. But last, and most important of all, we shall have to raise up a public that can listen intelligently to good plays and create, by its sympathy and taste, a real future for the American drama and the American theater.

Let us get—for this is the kernel of the whole matter—the play-reading habit. The theater is not a Saturday night affair with crush of taxicabs at the street corner. It is in your mind and mine. It is the means to the highest intellectual enjoyment, whether it is witnessed by the eye of the head or the eye of the heart. For the sake of the democratic uplifting of the future possibilities of the theater let us introduce ourselves to the delight of reading the drama as literature and contributing our judgment and taste to its later development upon the stage.—Harvard-Cambridge in Shakespeare.

Mr. Stover asserted he had enjoyed his vacation very much. He had been in nearly every important city in the South, he said, and had made an exhaustive study of parks and municipal conditions.

To Put on Flesh and Increase Weight
A Physician's Advice.
Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all a matter of what they eat. It's all a matter of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Thin folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a scant balance of health and strength. Stuffed won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What thin people need is something that will prepare their fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition I always recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but is a scientific combination of six of the most effective and powerful flesh building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective, and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week. Sargol is sold by Osceola Bros. and other good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.

RURAL CREDIT BILLS NEXT

FARMERS' LOAN MEASURE IN SENATE

House Also Given Copy by the Administration Commission.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Administration rural credit bills were introduced simultaneously in the Senate and House today by Senator Fletcher of Florida and Representative Moses of Indiana, members of the commission President Wilson sent abroad last summer to study the foreign systems. The bills today were for long term farm loans. Bills for short term loans will be introduced later. The introduction was a sequel to yesterday's conference at the White House.

Today's measures would establish in the Treasury Department a bureau of farm land banks under the direction of a commissioner and make provision for the formation of such banks in any state under federal charter and federal inspection.

CAN ORGANIZE BANKS.

Any group of farmers within a state might organize co-operative farm land banks with power to issue bonds to raise funds from distant money markets for farm developments. Operations of the individual banks would be confined within state lines, the supervision will be federal, owing to the variety of state laws bearing on land titles, taxation, foreclosure and like subjects. They will be strictly prohibited from doing "a city business."

Loans to farmers might not exceed fifty per cent of the value of improved land, nor extend more than thirty-five years. No institution could begin business without a foundation capital and double liability provided for national banks. The amount of long term business which might be undertaken by any of the proposed banks could not exceed 15 times the amount of protected paid-up share capital and surplus. They might accept and pay interest on deposits not exceeding fifty per cent of capital and surplus and receive deposits of postal saving funds to the same extent.

OAKLAND HARBORS COL. E. B. BRAYDON

"Discoverer" of Manager H. Savage and George Ade "Found."

Col. E. B. Braydon, the man who met Henry Savage as a stage dealer and made of him one of America's powerful theatrical producers, was "found" in Oakland last night. Braydon disappeared from his New York haunts last year after the tour of Adeline Genee, whose season at the Grand Opera House he was managing. A few friends knew he was in California, none knew where. Then "Kismet" arrived in town of A. L. Flynn and Braydon came out of hiding to greet him. He calls Flynn "his boy" and blames himself for his success as a manager.

Braydon has written fate for every Savage production that was a success. He found George Ade hiding behind a bushel basket and brought that modest playwright into his own light. "Easy" and "The College Widow" were some of the results. "The Prince and the Pauper" and its success bore Braydon's brand.

"I am here for a year or so yet," said Braydon, "and then it is back to New York and stage. No, I am going to do things for myself in the future and my plans include some big things at that. First, I want to put out Tyrone Power in a version of 'Barabas.' The world's first love story, as it is, should make the greatest theatrical production in American stage history. What will follow, I do not know, as that production and its plans will keep me busy for some time."

Commuters Gaze at Murdered Man's Body

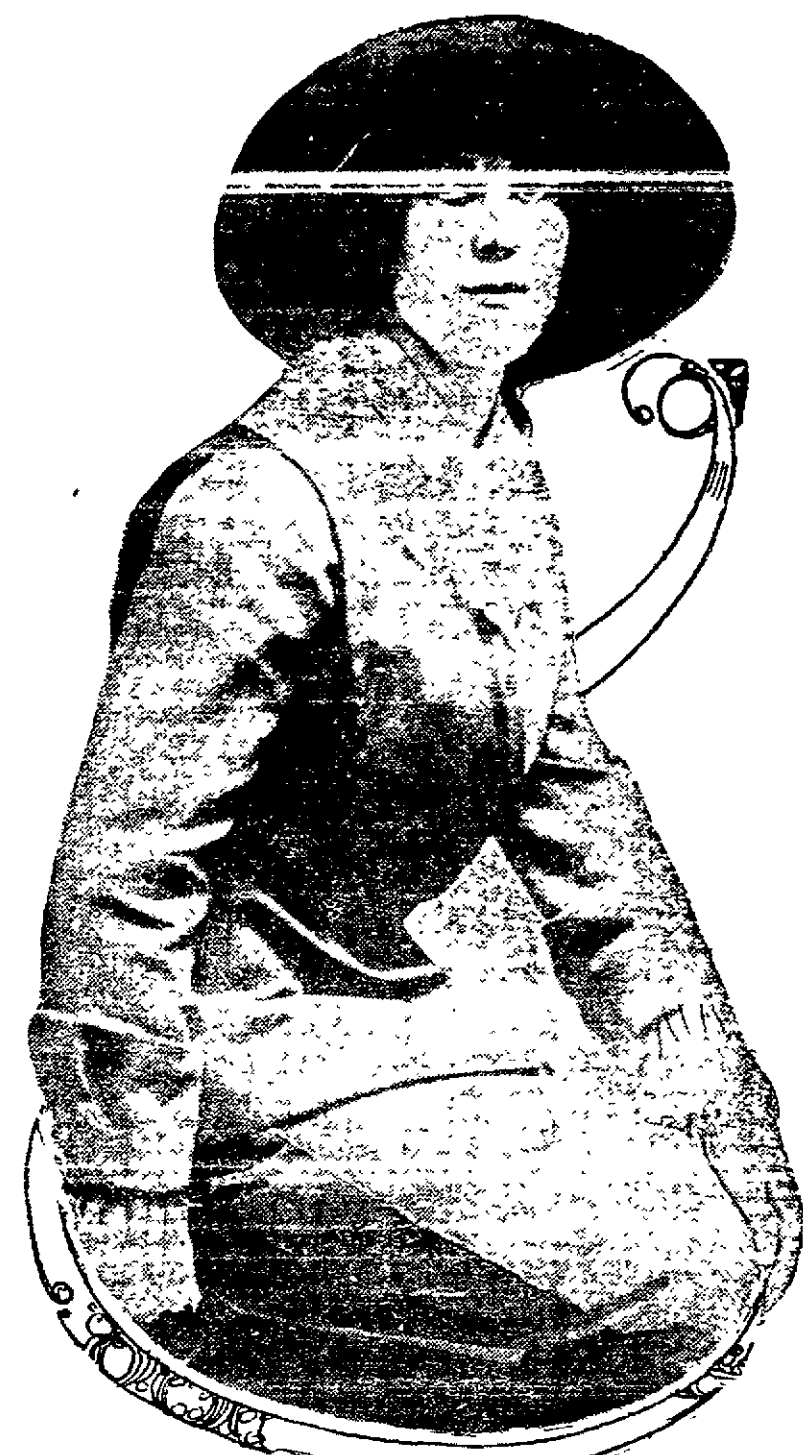

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Hundreds of city-bound commuters today, gazing through misty car windows into the drizzle were startled at the figure of a man propped up against the muddy embankment of the tracks.

When the police came they found that he had been shot three times in the back of the head.

He was identified as Gilbert Gilhooley, a watchman employed to protect the railroad property against the incursions of thieves who infest the Western Indiana Railroad yards at 54th street, where the body was found. After the crime the murderer posed the body in the posture in which it was observed, the police believe, and then tossed away the pistol with which the shooting was done.

Has Oakland Girl Grand Opera Voice? If So, Here's Chance

Has any Oakland girl a grand opera voice? If so tell it to Ellison Van Hooser, for he, and he alone, can open the door to fame. Ellison Van Hooser is himself a famous singer; not a variation of the word Hooser Goo, as one might say, without meaning to include it, but a genuine singer, and he has been giving the task of finding the promising young singer who is to profit by the donation of a New York woman philanthropist who has set aside $5,000 for a musical education for a deserving singer. Tuition under the best musical teachers is provided, expenses for a first year in opera are furnished, and, as Paris held the golden apple, so Van Hooser holds the scholarship for a voice—and face of beauty.

Miss Mabels Sele, a Kansas City girl, is now learning music under masters through such a scholarship, and is predicted to be one of the coming sopranos. The scholarship is open to any girl in the United States.

"I am not allowed to divulge the name of the donor of the scholarship," declared Van Hooser, in discussing the matter, "but have charge of the award. It is for the purpose of developing American art. The American girl is capable of anything—but I must find the girl."

All South America To Display at Fair

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Practically every country in South America will participate in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco, the commissioners who visited the South American republics in the interest of the exposition will report to Secretary Bryan today. Felix Martinez and Daniel O'Connell Live-ly, United States commissioners to South America for the exposition, arrived here today from their trip and were much gratified with their efforts.

"No country visited will be absent when the roll is called at San Francisco," said Martinez. The commission visited Venezuela, Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina, Chile, Peru and Bolivia. Ecuador and Paraguay were in the commission's itinerary, but because of lack of time those countries will be visited later.

SEEKING ASSAILANTS OF NURSE GIRL IN PIEDMONT

The police of Piedmont are making a search for two men who attacked and brutally beat Miss Fannie Kendrick, a nurse girl employed by Gilbert Haly, 23 Lake avenue, Piedmont, last Thursday. Good descriptions have been gained of the two men.

with Sherman. The girl was found near the foot of Grand avenue after she had been attacked by the two thugs. Haly-Rose has detailed men to investigate the case.

CALLS SCHOOL 'LOCKSTEP' SYSTEM

President of Normal School Scathingly Denounces Grind of Forced Phalanx.

Is Oakland's school system a system of "lockstep schooling?" Is learning lessons in city classes a continual "body wringing?"

Nerve wringing, soul soddening? California's public schools, not alone in Oakland, but in every other city or even colony district, from kindergarten to university, are placed under the same category in a scathing denunciation of the system at the hands of Frederick Burk, president of the San Francisco Normal School. Under the title of "Lockstep schooling and its remedy" he has announced that the present system of conducting classes, in which students are forced in a solid educational phalanx, results in an endless struggle on the part of children to yield a juicier attention, to fight against distraction with yielding steps, and to suffer racking fatigue.

Taking cities in turn, Burk shows the percentage of children attending classes which should, according to rule, be attended by younger pupils. From 29 to 48 per cent of the boys in classes are over age, while girls run in percentage from 30 to 45.

Dr. Burk finds fault with the assumption, governing the system, that pupils must advance in a solid, unbreakable phalanx, mastering the same length of lesson with even thoroughness. He says that this is manifestly impossible, and is largely responsible for the prevailing inefficiency and failures in life work.

The effort to force and hold the mind in that state of vacuous attention preliminary to actual learning uses probably 90 to 95 per cent of the total physical and mental energy of the individual, leaving from 5 to 20 per cent with which to learn the lesson, the teacher would impart. He says that this is manifestly impossible, and is largely responsible for the prevailing inefficiency and failures in life work.

New texts have been formulated; the course of recitations has been altered; a new system of promotion has been devised and there is elasticity in the number of lessons per week, based upon the capacity and need of the individual.

SOCIETY BUD TO SOON VISIT HERE Mrs. Ralph Haywood Isham Is on Way West

California will soon meet one of New York's well-known society buds; none other than the daughter of the late Mayor Gaynor, who is now, a bride, on her way west as Mrs. Ralph Haywood Isham. The bride, who is only 16 years of age, was married at a quiet ceremony which surprised the friends of the couple, after her mother had been forced to go to the marriage license clerk to obtain the necessary permit, the girl being under age. No formal announcement of the engagement has been made on account of the death of the late statesman.

Mrs. Gaynor motored to the Brooklyn borough hall for the license and returned to the home of the late mayor, where the young people received it. Isham, who is 23 years of age, was a Yale student and later traveled all about the world. He is now in charge of a number of his father's interests, and is a descendant of Jonathan Trumbull, the first governor of Connecticut. The father of the bridegroom is now at Santa Barbara recovering from a severe illness. The couple will visit him during their California tour.

Suffrage Association Not Democrats' Enemy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Mrs. McMillan, as chairman of the congressional committee of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, wrote President Wilson last night declaring that the organization of which she was a member opposed no political party and would not join in any attack on the Democratic party. "In view of the fact that the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage," wrote Mrs. McMillan, "has publicly announced a policy contemplating an attack upon the Democratic party as a whole and fearing lest this small group of suffragists acting under an American and militant methods prejudice our cause, will you permit us to make clear that our organization, the National American Woman Suffrage Association, being strictly non-partisan, emphatically condemns this policy."

MRS. VANDERBILT TO LEAD SUFFRAGE MARCH

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Vanderbilt, the latest convert to woman suffrage from society's ranks, will lead society's hosts at the big "votes for women" ball to be held Saturday evening at the Seventy-first Regiment armory.

A spectacular advertising campaign was staged for two hours in front of the foot of Grand avenue after she had been attacked by the two thugs. Haly-Rose has detailed men to investigate the case.

FUTURE ALIEN LAWS WORRY JAPAN

pleased in official circles here today that a basis of understanding on the California alien land ownership question will be found by the Japanese and the United States governments.

The chief concern here at present seems to be in regard to future legislation in America and any additional amendment unfavorable to the Japanese would be considered a serious menace to the traditional friendship of the two countries.

The government at Washington has endeavored to assure Japan that the state of California would cease adopting legislation held by Japan to be discriminatory.

This is admitted here, but it is pointed out that owing to the political distinctions between the governments of Washington and California there might be some difficulty in obtaining reasonable assurances for the future.

BRYAN DENIES NEGOTIATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Secretary Bryan said today there were no pending negotiations between Japan and the United States over a measure which would prohibit importation of Japanese goods made by laborers under 14 years old, and which it is said Japan considered in conflict with treaty provisions between the two countries.

Mr. Bryan pointed out that such a provision was in the new tariff, but after representations in behalf of Japan, was stricken out. No separate bill with such a provision has been introduced in Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Consideration of the Baker bill to exclude Asiatic immigrants was again postponed today by the house committee having it in charge. The action was generally interpreted in Congress as indication of the unwillingness of leaders to work in harmony with the administration on the Japanese negotiations.

CULLOM CHANGED VIEWS ON FUTURE

Doubt of Hereafter Is Shown in Memoirs by Belief

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—After a brief funeral service at the Cullom home here, the body of former Senator Shelby M. Cullom was started for Springfield, Ill., on a train leaving at 11:45 a. m. After funeral services, during which his body will lie in state, the Illinois state house, he will be buried at Springfield. Dr. Charles Wood, a Presbyterian clergyman, and close friend of the former senator, told today how Mr. Cullom had changed his belief in eternity, after writing of his own convictions. The former senator concluded that with an expression of doubt that he had found anything in his reading of the scriptures to warrant belief in a hereafter.

"In the last few months, his feelings changed completely," said Dr. Wood. "He told me he believed in God and Christ and immortality, and added:

"I want to make at the first opportunity a statement of my simple creed, to be inserted after the last chapter of my recollections, to correct the doubt expressed on a dark day when the light was dim."

Mme. Breshkovskaya Harshly Punished

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Mme. Catherine Breshkovskaya, the Russian revolutionary leader, has been sentenced to eighteen months' solitary confinement as punishment for her recent attempt to escape from Siberia, according to word which reached sympathizers here today.

It was early in December that Mme. Breshkovskaya, "the grandmother of the Russian revolution," made her second unsuccessful attempt to escape from the perpetual exile to which she was sentenced in March, 1910.

EAST OAKLAND PARISH PLANS VALENTINE PARTY

The young ladies of St. Anthony's Parish, East Oakland, are making active preparations for a Valentine party, to be given in the parish hall on Saturday evening, February 14. If wide-awake interest and the pronounced success of former social affairs given by them can be taken as an indication of what may be expected, there is no doubt but what this Valentine party will eclipse all affairs previously held.

Among those taking an active part in making the affair a success are Misses Katherine and Helen Reno, Mae Cosgrave, Kathleen Foley, Helen and Ruby Waldron, Gertrude Hill, Florence and Tallian O'Rourke, Miss Hanna Rose Manseau, Lillian Reno and Marion and Lottie O'Connor.

DOG'S FONDNESS FOR CHILD CAUSES DEATH

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—A Scotch collie's fondness for seven-month-old Gladys Leak is believed to have been the indirect cause of the child's death by drowning in the bath tub yesterday. The baby had been left alone in the house with only the dog.

To Be No Tinkering With Tariff, Says Democratic Leader

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Representative Underwood of Alabama, Democratic leader of the House, in a statement today served notice that there will be no tinkering with the new tariff law at this session of Congress. His declaration was called forth as the result of the introduction of bills in the House within the last few days which would repeal the "collection at the source" feature of the income tax act.

FLYER WRECKED; THREE KILLED

Pennsylvania Passenger Train Runs Into Engine

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—Pennsylvania passenger train No. 19, New York to Pittsburgh, was wrecked near Conemaugh, Pa., today, when it ran into a west bound engine and caboose. Three members of the freight crew were killed.

The engine and mail car on the passenger train were derailed, blocking three tracks. The passengers were tossed about, but none was seriously hurt.

A heavy fog made it impossible for the engineer to see the signals of the automatic block system, with which the division is equipped.

PASSENGER TRAIN OVERTURNED.

BENTON, Tenn., Jan. 28.—One man is believed to have been killed and several passengers and trainmen were injured when a Louisville and Nashville passenger train grazed a freight train at a switch at an early hour today and overturned.

Cigarette Cure Must Precede Fiancee's 'Yes'

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The crusade which Recorder John J. McGovern of Hoboken, N. J., has been conducting to rid men and boys of the cigarette smoking habit resulted last night in 300 men and boys submitting to the "cure."

After discussing the cigarette subject with two physicians of the Hoboken board of education staff, the recorder decided to invite all cigarette smokers to his court room to be "cured."

Present last night were mothers of small boys who had become addicted to the cigarette, wives of other smokers and sweethearts of young men who also used them. It is said that since the movement began, several young men's fiancées have refused to be married unless their fiancés gave up smoking cigarettes.

The prisoners were led from his cell as the jury was called and showed no signs of uneasiness, but as the verdict was read he could not restrain his emotions and burst into tears. His son, Mitchell, embraced him. His wife seemed overjoyed.

The sheriff was waiting to rearrest Majors on an indictment charging him with the attempted murder of his second wife. Judge Mann showed a written bond for the prisoner and he was released.

N. Y. Chief Engineer Gets Twice Governor's Salary

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Alfred Craven's salary as chief engineer of the public service commission has just been increased from $15,000 to $30,000, which makes him the highest paid official in the service of the city or the state. He will now get twice as much as the governor and $5,000 more than the mayor or corporation counsel.

Craven was educated at the United States naval academy, but resigned from the service to follow his profession of engineering. He came to New York from the west.

War of Steamship Lines on Increase

LONDON, Jan. 28.—A new development in the trans-Atlantic steamship rate war recently begun by the German lines occurred today when the Anchor line announced its intention of starting a service between Queenstown and Boston.

Project of the Hamburg-American line to run a service between the same ports and also as a reply to the German lines' entry into the Canadian traffic.

HOUSEWIVES WANT BETTER BUTTER SUPPLY

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—"I want the best," the demand of housewives, has caused an unreasonable advance in butter, according to local retail merchants. The cost of butter has increased 25 per cent in price over the next grade, which is no more than two or three per cent improvement in quality. Merchants suggest that housewives be less extravagant in their demands.

NO HOPE FOR PALATIAL YACHT

Craft Belonging to F. W. Vanderbilt Likely to Go to Pieces.

For, belonging to Frederick W. Vanderbilt, was in a bad position today and appeared likely to go to pieces at any moment in the heavy breakers rolling over her, according to a wireless message today. She went ashore Monday off the Colombian coast.

Members of the crew are on board. It is believed the United Fruit company's steamer Frutera is standing by but helpless in the storm. Vanderbilt, the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, Lord Arthur George Keith-Falconer, and others of the party are on their way to New York on the steamer Almirante.

PARTY WAS IN PERIL. NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28.—Death faced the party aboard Frederick W. Vanderbilt's palatial yacht Warrior probably for hours after the craft with its distinguished passengers was wrecked on a reef off the coast of Colombia, Monday, according to wireless messages picked up here last night. The messages told of heroic but futile efforts made by the United Fruit company's steamer Frutera to save those on board.

Captain Henschel finally was forced to summon the steamer Almirante, which effected a perilous rescue. All the Frutera's life boats either were smashed or capsized. Those on board the Almirante are Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt, the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, and Lord Arthur George Keith-Falconer, son and heir of the Earl of Kintore.

Soon after the Warrior struck, the fruit steamer picked up her wireless appeal and steamed toward the wreck. Although the sea was running high, Captain Henschel lowered boats. One of them capsized and the others were crushed. The Almirante, which was of Santa Marta, about 40 miles distant, then was called and succeeded in taking off all the Warrior's passengers, although with peril.

FORCE ARCHBISHOP TO HEAR PLEAS

Militants Besiege Lambeth Palace and Obtain Audience

LONDON, Jan. 28.—A band of militant suffragettes besieged today the Archbishop of Canterbury, in Lambeth palace, and eventually forced him to capitulate and receive one of the numbers in order to discuss the question of forcible feeding.

The women were headed by Mrs. Dacre-Fox. It took them upwards of an hour to obtain admission to the old palace on the banks of the Thames, a little above Westminster. They demanded a hearing to an attempt on the part of those within to temporize. Finally, the archbishop, seeing the futility of trying to escape from his obstinate blockaders, allowed Mrs. Dacre-Fox to enter.

The head of the Church of England, however, seemed to pay no heed to the suffragettes' appeals, but he refused definitely to commit himself.

OAKLAND'S BOYS AND GIRLS

Wants Boys to Join Athletic Teams at Once

Although the boys' athletic association of the Manual Training and Commercial
High School did not enter into many contests during the past term, the president of the organization, Lloyd Brown, declares that they will renew their interest in the outdoor activities this semester.

In speaking about the athletic affairs in the school, Brown pleads for the boys to join the teams immediately. He says:
"Do not wait until the new school is completed. What the school needs now is about 200 fellows who will come out and make a name for themselves and the school."

In the girls' athletic association, there was more enthusiasm in the contests.
Every meeting of the association was well attended and school spirit prevailed.

May Mason, secretary of the association, has made the following announcement about the girls' athletic association's progress:

"All the clubs have given very satisfactory reports, especially the boathie club."

Among the little girls attending the public schools who have preferred the old-fashioned style of hair-dressing to the latest is Irene Reynard, 10-year-old pupil, attending the Grant School of this city.

1. The first step is to identify the problem or question that needs to be answered. This involves understanding the context and the specific requirements of the task.
